A black and white photograph of a large, multi-story brick school building with many windows. The building is the central focus of the image. In the foreground, there are some dark, rounded bushes and a sidewalk.

I.C. NORCOM HIGH SCHOOL 94-95

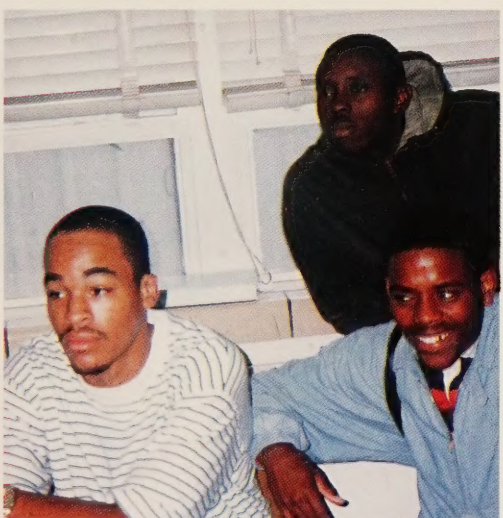

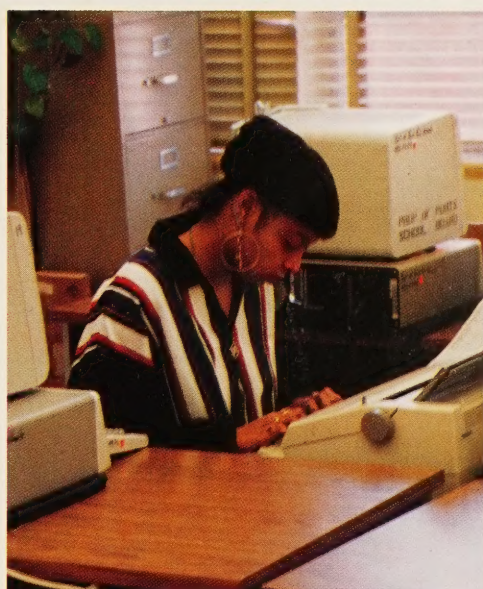

PORTSMOUTH PUBLIC LIBRARY
601 COURT STREET
PORTSMOUTH VA 23704

A Year In The Life!

What a Year! This year was special in every respect. Teachers, parents, administrators, and students worked together to form this year in the life of Norcom High School students. This was the Grand Reunion Year! So many Alumni returned! Norcomites continued to distinguish themselves in every way, at work and play. New bonds of friendships were formed; old ones were strengthened. New improvements were made to the building; old faults were ignored. Together we worked to make this one of the best years in the life.

Just moments after being crowned, Jamila Hall is pictured with her mother. "I love my mother very much. She is my inspiration."

The Homecoming King and Queen — Reginald Eure and Jamila Hall.

HOMECOMING '94-95

CONTESTANTS

The mighty Greyhounds fought for their victory over Norview 29-6.

Always AND FOREVER

resenting the 1994-1995 Homecoming King and Queen — Reginald Eure and Jamila Hall.

Reginald lives by his favorite scripture: I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me. As a result, he strives to be a very positive person even though his temper is sometimes a

Jamila spends a great deal of her time cheering the mighty Greyhounds on to victory. When she is not cheering the team, she is cheering other people up by making them laugh. Jamila tries to get along with everyone. Perhaps she will become a wonderful psychiatrist after she graduates from Virginia State University.

MISS SENIOR

Latiya Granger is a Pisces who is very good at playing the clarinet. She admires her mom and Magic Johnson. Her favorite singing group is Boyz II Men. Her best subjects are math and science.

Melba Newby likes to act crazy, and her biggest problem is talking in class. She enjoys styling hair and cleaning the house. Black Street is the group she loves to listen to.

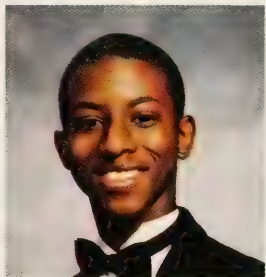

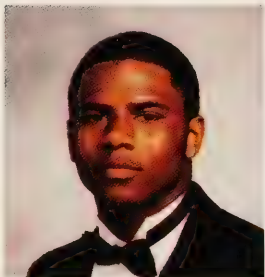

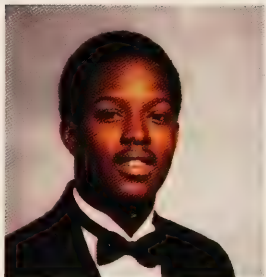

Dominic Scott likes to entertain his classmates. He would love to trade places with Eddie Murphy. Dominic is a Capricorn who is looking for a cute, sexy young lady who treats him nicely.

Superior and Sophisticated

Hot lunches with chilled coolies were very popular among Seniors Walter Booker, Victor Johnson, Michael Manning, Sommer Riddick, and LaToya Clark.

For some Seniors, time was spent as office aids. Here, Lakeisha Lankford takes a call while the administration and office secretaries are busy.

Top student Jaime Eley takes a breather from her vigorous study schedule to give us a smile.

LaTonya Vinson exercised her constitutional right by registering to vote. Seniors were often given the opportunity to take a stand and become involved in community and national affairs.

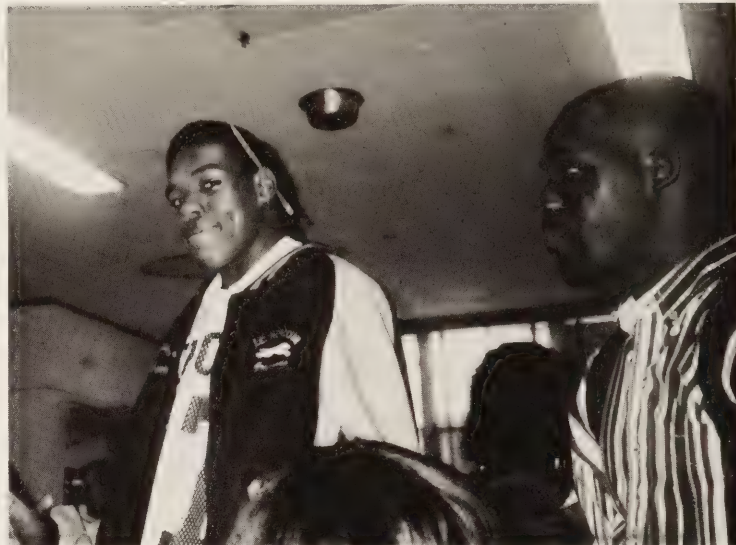

Courtney Fields and Walter Booker, two Seniors with high hopes and dreams, plan to graduate with honor and pride in a sweet Norcom tradition.

Clarence Russell studies as he awaits the Government test to be passed out. This class was a requirement for every Senior to graduate.

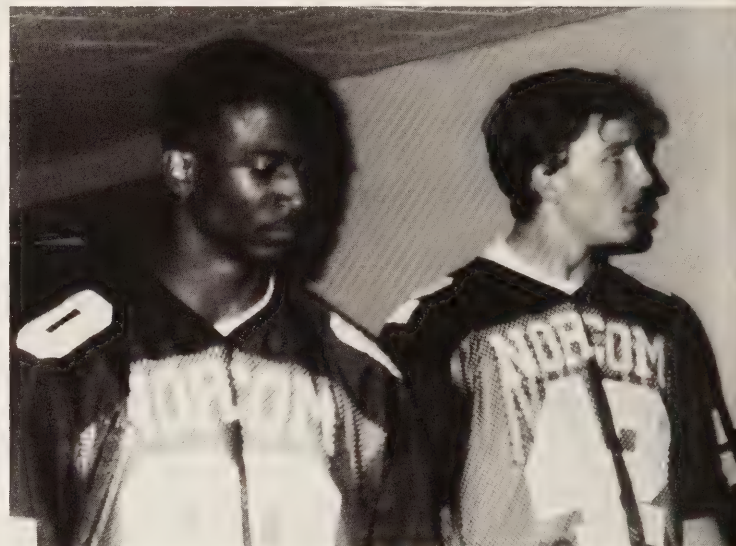

A popular thing to do this year in the life of the Seniors was to be fashionably dressed. Elisha Goodrich and Bettina Smith express their styles in confidence.

Torrence Oxendine, better known as "Tuff", gives the camera a quick smile as he and Larry Wescott await the dispersement of the lunch line.

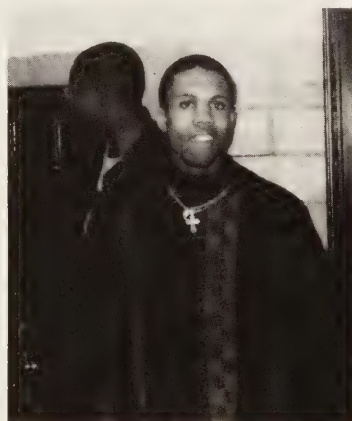

Seniors Lamar Bowers and Eric Allen show their school spirit and support in wearing their football jerseys.

From left, Seniors Lakeysha Porter, Jaime Eley, and LaToya Askew work in the library during their free time so projects and assignments could be turned in on time.

Seniors often expressed their spirit and excitement in the pep rallies, such as Kim Jones and Alicia Pimienta. Go 'n girls!

Steppin' Out in Style

Seniors experienced an overdose of fatigue in the morning after staying up late each night, whether the cause was due to part-time jobs, homework, or ... wild parties. Which was Kim Hasty's reason?

Tamiko Scott visually shows how stress and the pressures of Senior life can weigh you down.

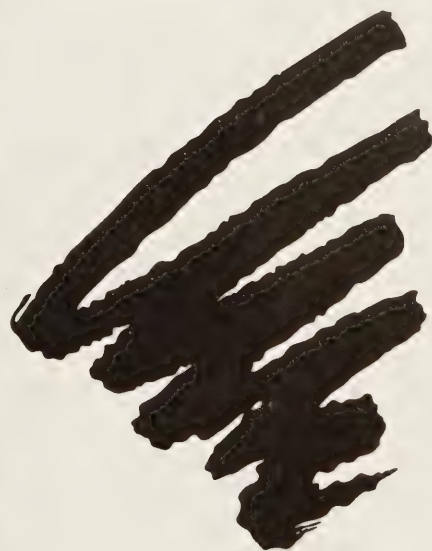

Michael Voodre performs his version of "Weekend at Bernie's".

Disappointment grips Marte McCall as he faces the fact that being on crutches means being left behind.

Shenna Hawkins completes classwork as fellow classmate Salena Scott hopes the answers are correct.

Hangin' out with friends was the best way to compliment school life. Pictured, are Michael Manning, Sommer Riddick, A.J. Paige, and Jaime Lassiter.

Avril Myers uses a computer to advance her studies. Many Seniors found computers to be a necessity for completing classwork.

The yearbook's own photographer and student co-editor gets a chance to be on the other side of the lens.

Lunchtime was an important part of the day. Senior Shawnta Smith says with her class load, she needs all the nutrition she can get.

Check-out time is thought of as a favorite time for teachers, but for Norcom's teachers it's a time to fraternize and to review tomorrow's procedures. Mrs. Hardy, Mrs. Carey, Mr. "Nick", and Coach Langston help make this part of the day special.

Mrs. Arlene Wood is always cordial. She prepares for her Math classes with enthusiasm. She realizes the importance of positivity in students' lives.

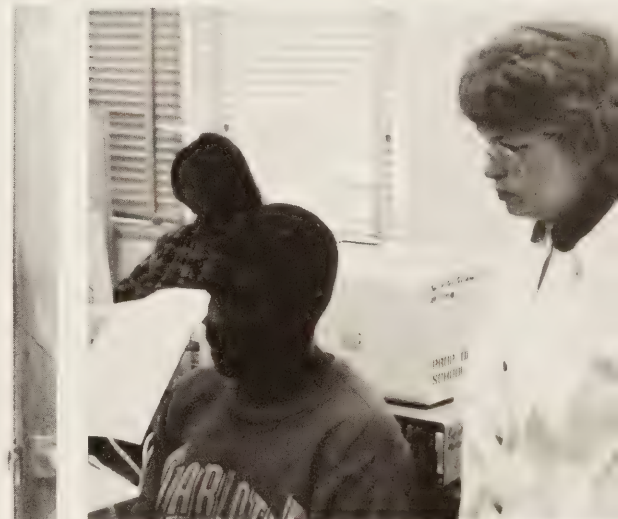

Mr. Pantas, Social Studies teacher, takes extra time to explain a concept to a student. Extra time, extra effort, extra energy are all characteristics of Norcom's dedicated staff.

Mrs. Genevieve Swinton, English Instructional Leader, and Mrs. Janice Watson plan programs for students in AP English. Both teachers are favorites among students.

A Year In the Life of Norcom's Faculty and Staff

Faculty meetings can be informative and a place where friends meet. Mrs. Redd, Coach Langston, and Mr. Foust brainstorm ideas for new concepts.

Mrs. Barbara Merritt, Social Studies instructional leader explains an approach to researching a topic for Advanced Placement World History.

Instruction is on-going at Norcom. Mrs. Estes provides sound advice for Seth during class.

Mrs. Angeline Hopkins, Assistant Principal for Instruction, discusses an idea with a visitor to the building.

The year before "The Year"! Three down and one more to go. The Junior year is always filled with so much anticipation. The prom looms large in plans and pocketbooks of the class. There are also some important tests to take, i.e., the T.A.P., the PSAT, and ah yes, the SAT. The life of a Junior can be hectic but rewarding. When the Science Fair projects are done and the research papers are in, Norcom's Juniors will become Norcom's Seniors. Another class and another year.

ACADEMICS

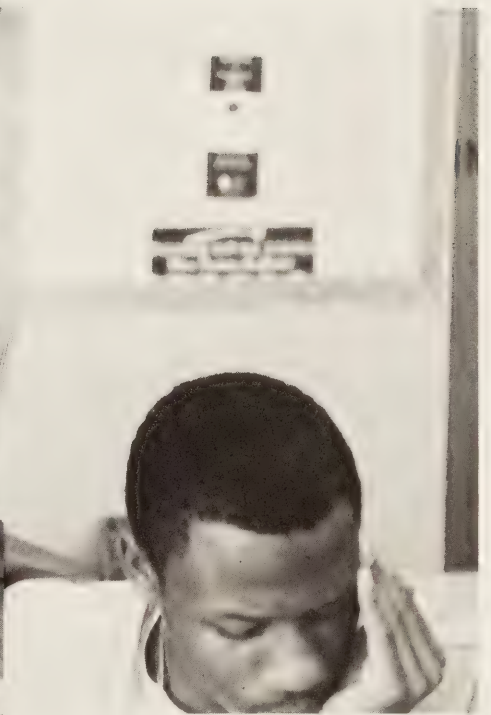

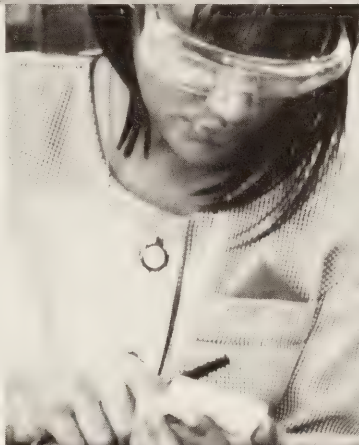

In the life of every high school student there is always that class which is the highlight of the academic day. That is certainly the case at Norcom. There are so many teachers and classes which remain in the hearts and minds of students long after they have left the hallowed halls of this great institution. In this section of the book, the staff has attempted to reflect the many aspects of academia at Norcom. As this year's group of Sophisticated Seniors look back on this edition of The Greyhound, hopefully they will remember the sheer academic strength of this place.

Students become skilled artisans in Mr. "Nick's" Drafting Class. Here students work in a relaxed atmosphere similar to what they would do in an architect's office.

Mrs. Holloman's Education for Employment Class provides excellent skill for entering the world of work. Most students, such as Antonio Brown appreciate the knowledge gained from this class.

Diana Ashe and Magnet students consider the outcome of a laboratory experiment. For magnet students, the science labs and math classrooms become favorite hangouts.

The Newspaper Staff powers over a new assignment for the Norcom Gazette. Meneka Calabrese, Gazette editor makes new assignments.

Carl McCray realizes that typing skills are very important. Typing is a practical art which can become essential when term papers are due.

Woodworking is a skill. In this technology course, students learn to turn a block of wood into an Art form.

Mr. Leroy Williams takes the time to very carefully instruct his award-winning public speaking class.

Mrs. Adams converses with Tanine Bray over a Spanish Assignment. The photographer catches the two at a light moment.

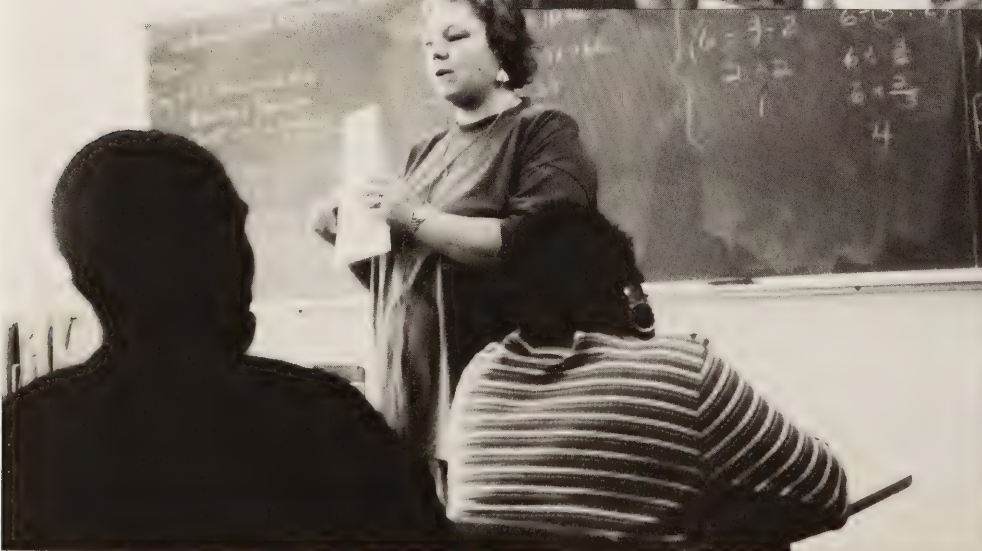

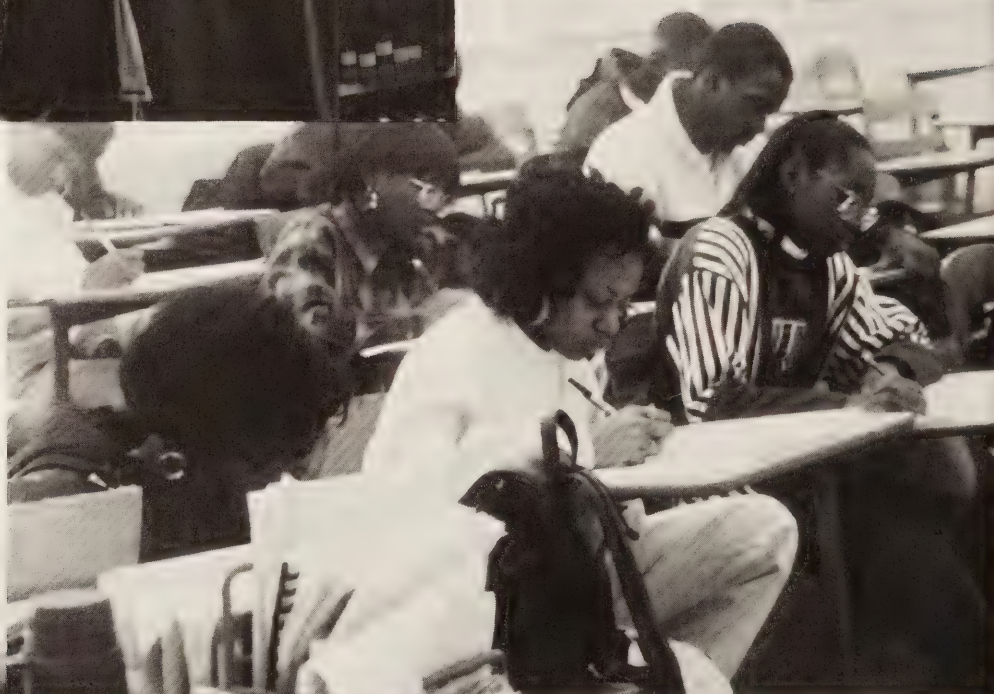

Latoya Wright, a Junior, concentrates on her keyboarding assignment.

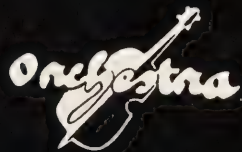

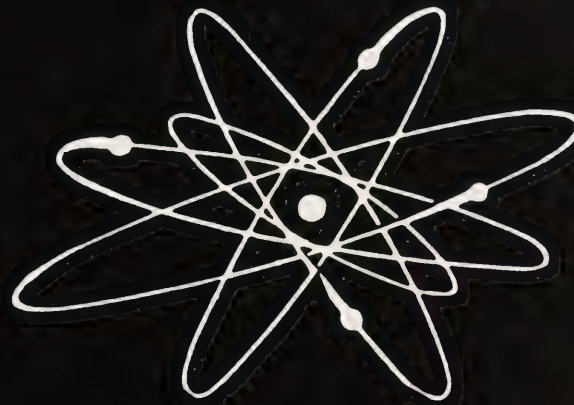

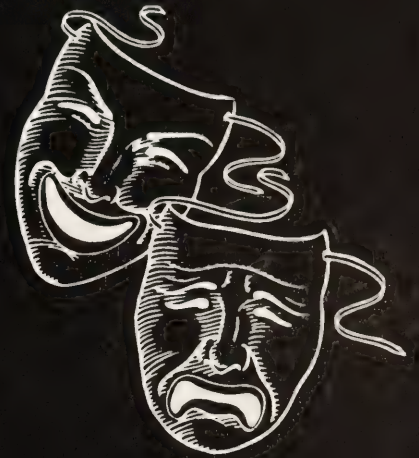

Mrs. Sledge, one of the librarians helps a student with Research. Since research is so vital to any high school student's life, the library is an important gathering place.

Linda Artiste and Shyroine Anthony work diligently to complete an assignment in Magnet English 11.

Mrs. Nancy Bell, Advanced Math teacher explains a concept to Trigonometry students.

FAREWELL

Making it through those four golden years
Surviving the books and comforting the tears
Anticipation of that upcoming day
"I can't wait 'til it's my turn," we would all say
Not realizing that it was so near
But we finally made it, and now we are here
The good times and the times that weren't good,
Are pieces to the puzzle that makes it understood
These pieces combine and as they do, they unfold
The only thing we have left, the memories we hold
But that chapter in our book of life goes on, it is almost finished
Knowing that the pride our class holds will never be diminished
We can't look back now, we must look ahead
We must make our school proud as our alma mater has said
Our year is almost over, never really getting its start
Each day that passes by is sentimental to each of our hearts
As we look on with our heads held up high,
We leave with prestige and unity that no one can deny
Leaving this great building; a new life begins
Farewell my classmates of '95, until we meet again.
